Dear Harold,

Many thanks for your letter of May 24th, with revelant details and enclosures.

I would like to order 1 copy of each of your books and I have completed the order form appropriately. Please find attached to the order form approx 11,000 Japanese Yen (approx $112.00). I assume that this amount will be ample to cover the Shipping Charges, if possible insured. If there is any change left over, then Please have a beer on me, as I would feel privileged to buy you one, for all the excellent and hard work that you've put in to letting the public know the truth about the crime of the century!

Thanks a lot for letting me know about 'Last Hurrah' and I will shortly be dropping them a line to order a copy of your book 'Never Again' and possibly 'Selections'.

As per your instructions I've written my address above as well as on the order form and the back of the → envelope.

I was not really surprised to read in your letter that 'Case Open' was butchered as there appears to be obstacle after obstacle placed in the way of honest publications like yours. Yet, the utter pathos, that Posner had the audacity to write gets published with the minimum of fuss, unbelievable!!

Actually, I would be extremely interested in also getting a copy of the longer, more detailed version of 'Case Open' that is mentioned on Page 169. What do you suggest I do about this, get it from your good self or David Wrone at the University of Wisconsin, also when do you envisage it being available??

Harold, I would be most grateful if you could drop me a line to let me know that the books are on the way and the answer to the above question. Keep up the good work!

Kindest Regards, Raymond Brown.
